

MEMORANDUM FOR THE DIRECTOR:

This is what Dave Garroway said on This Is Dave Garroway Today at 7:00 A.M.,
NRCA-TV network:

"I have a film story for you. This is the story of the home-coming of Malcolm Bersohn, the former medical student in Peiping. You may remember we talked to him last month, Hong Kong, shortwave direct. This is the man who was imprisoned for two years by the Communists on charges of espionage. Obviously, as you will see, this man has undergone some brainwashing technique. Listen to him talking to newsmen at Idlewild now."

(Then followed showing of film of Bersohn and interview.)

"As his sister said, there is a very sick boy alright. Sounds almost like a talking machine that you were cranking and the clichés just came out as you cranked, one after another, and since his memory wasn't very good, he had to write most of them down and read them off again. I asked Father Bissonette, who was here last week about that -- or just look at the world around you. That, if you came in in the middle of it, was the boy, Malcolm Bersohn, the medical student formerly in Peiping who has been in Communist camps and being brain-washed for three years, and you can see what they can do to you."

STANLEY J. GROGAN

NOTE: What Bersohn said I will have for you later today.
